Workshop on Strategic Environmental Assessments for Nuclear Power Programmes

IAEA Headquarters
Vienna, Austria

3 to 6 December 2019

Ref. No.: EVT1804662

Information Sheet

Introduction

Key requirements for the peaceful uses of nuclear energy are that they should be beneficial, responsible and sustainable, while ensuring protection of both the public and the environment. Strategic environmental assessment (SEA) can be applied in line with these key requirements. SEA is a decision support tool that aims to assist the preparation of policies, plans and programmes that are environmentally sustainable, which is essential for the development of nuclear power.

One of the main purposes of SEA is to enhance understanding of both potentially significant negative as well as positive environmental implications when implementing a nuclear power programme. It does this by identifying different development options and mitigation measures and assessing their environmental impacts from the outset of the formulation of policies, plans and programmes. By identifying options that are not viable, SEA can help to significantly reduce the costs that would otherwise be incurred by further pursuing them. Moreover, SEA provides a platform for effective communication with the public and other stakeholders, thereby offering opportunities for addressing the concerns they may have.

Currently, SEA is formally required in about 60 countries for strategic development programmes. A considerable amount of experience with the application of SEA has been gained in many countries worldwide. While SEAs are in general widely applied, only few SEAs have been performed for nuclear power programmes (or sub-components thereof, for example, spent fuel management strategies). Given this currently rather limited experience, the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) has developed guidelines to support those countries that are involved in the preparation of SEA for their nuclear power programmes.

Objectives

The purpose of this workshop is to provide training on conducting SEAs for national nuclear power programmes in accordance with the related IAEA guidelines. The various stages of the SEA process will be presented and discussed, including topics such as approaches for managing and implementing SEA, stakeholder engagement, quality assurance, and structure and content of the SEA report.

The workshop will consist of a series of lectures by both invited experts and IAEA staff members, which will be complemented by selected presentations given by the workshop participants. The participants will discuss the issues they may face in conducting SEAs for nuclear power programmes, and how the IAEA may support them in this process. Work sessions based on group work and hands-on exercises will serve to deepen the participants' understanding of the implementation of the SEA process.

Target Audience

This training workshop is open to about 25 energy professionals/experts from IAEA Member States interested in developing a programme for introducing or extending nuclear power generation, managing waste or decommissioning reactors. The designated participants should be mid-level professionals from national institutions and/or academia who are responsible for the planning and development of nuclear power programmes and/or are in charge of conducting environmental studies or provide support for these processes.

Participation and Registration

All persons wishing to participate in the event have to be designated by an IAEA Member State or should be members of organizations that have been invited to attend.

In order to be designated by an IAEA Member State, participants are requested to send the Participation Form (Form A) to their competent national authority (e.g. Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Permanent Mission to the IAEA or National Atomic Energy Authority) for onward transmission to the IAEA by 15 September 2019. Participants who are members of an organization invited to attend are requested to send the Participation Form (Form A) through their organization to the IAEA by above deadline.

Selected participants will be informed in due course on the procedures to be followed with regard to administrative and financial matters.

Expenditures and Grants

No registration fee is charged to participants.

The IAEA is generally not in a position to bear the travel and other costs of participants in the event. The IAEA has, however, limited funds at its disposal to help meet the cost of attendance of certain participants. Upon specific request, such assistance may be offered to normally one participant per country, provided that, in the IAEA's view, the participant will make an important contribution to the event.

The application for financial support should be made using the Grant Application Form (Form C) which has to be stamped, signed and submitted by the competent national authority to the IAEA together with the Participation Form (Form A) by 15 September 2019.

Venue

The event will be held at the Vienna International Centre (VIC) where the IAEA's Headquarters are located. Participants must make their own travel and accommodation arrangements.

General information on the VIC and other practical details, such as a list of hotels offering a reduced rate for IAEA participants, are listed on the following IAEA web page:

<http://www-pub.iaea.org/iaeaevents/GeneralInfo/Guide/VIC>.

Participants are advised to arrive at Checkpoint 1/Gate 1 of the VIC one hour before the start of the event on the first day in order to allow for timely registration. Participants will need to present an official photo identification document in order to be admitted to the VIC premises.

Visas

Participants who require a visa to enter Austria should submit the necessary application to the nearest diplomatic or consular representative of Austria at least four weeks before they travel to Austria. Since Austria is a Schengen State, persons requiring a visa will have to apply for a Schengen visa. In States where Austria has no diplomatic mission, visas can be obtained from the consular authority of a Schengen Partner State representing Austria in the country in question.
